Los Angeles – Roger W. Rossier MS '62, EdD '72 is one of seven Trojans to be honored at the 77th Annual USC Alumni Awards on April 24, 2010, at the Westin Bonaventure in downtown Los Angeles.

Rossier, the benefactor of the USC Rossier School of Education, will receive an Alumni Service Award recognizing “outstanding volunteer efforts on behalf of the university.” He is a member of the USC Athletic Department Board of Councilors, president of both the Trojan Club of Orange County and the USC Alumni Club of North Orange County and chair of the USC Orange County President’s Council. He is also the founder and chair of the USC Rossier School of Education School Counseling Advisory Council. In 1998, he and his wife Barbara contributed a $20 million naming gift to the USC School of Education. The Rossiers also endow a scholarship for Orange County students pursuing a counseling credential at USC Rossier.

In addition to Rossier, the USC Alumni Association will recognize six other distinguished alumni for their achievements and contributions. Academy Award-winning filmmaker Taylor Hackford '67 (LAS) will receive the Asa V. Call Alumni Achievement Award, the university’s highest alumni honor. Five-time Olympic medalist Janet Evans '95 (Annenberg), USC trustee and Cogent, Inc. co-founder Ming Hsieh '83, MS '84 (Viterbi) and Captain Melissa Ward '86 (Marshall), the first African-American woman to serve as a commercial airline captain, will receive Alumni Merit Awards, recognizing “individuals whose remarkable accomplishments speak well for the range and quality of a USC education.” Former USC trustee Gale Bensussen '70 (Marshall) and his wife Jane Bensussen MA'69 (LAS), benefactors of the Bensussen Research Floor of the USC School of Pharmacy, will also receive Alumni Service Awards.

The 2010 USC Alumni awards will also feature a special alumni tribute to retiring USC President Steven B. Sample and his wife Kathryn, commemorating their 19 years of service to the university.

“This year’s honorees represent the very best of the Trojan Family,” said Scott Mory, USC Alumni Association CEO. “We look forward to welcoming them, and our guests, to the 77th Annual Alumni Awards.”
