Seven outstanding Trojans will be honored for their professional achievements and legacy of service at the 86th annual USC Alumni Awards on May 4, 2019, at the InterContinental Los Angeles Downtown.

Kathleen L. McCarthy '57, a USC Trustee and the chairperson of the Thomas and Dorothy Leavey Foundation, one of California's largest philanthropic organizations, will receive the university's highest alumni honor, the Asa V. Call Alumni Achievement Award, which recognizes alumni who have demonstrated exceptional commitment to the university and the community by giving generously of their time, energy and leadership.

"Kathleen McCarthy is an extraordinary Trojan whose contributions to USC have enriched and enhanced the lives of generations of students," said USC Interim President Wanda M. Austin. "Her generosity, integrity and commitment to excellence inspire all of us to follow her lead and make a positive impact on the world. She truly is a USC treasure."

Alumni Merit Awards, which recognize alumni whose remarkable accomplishments speak well for the range and quality of a USC education, will be presented to Sandra Evers-Manly '81, the vice president of corporate responsibility for Northrop Grumman and the president of the Northrop Grumman Foundation; and Michael Nyman '86, the former chairman and CEO of PMK*BNC, one of the top communications, marketing and consultancy firms in entertainment and pop culture. The Young Alumni Merit Award, which is presented to an alumnus/a age 35 or younger who meets the same criteria as above, will go to biotech entrepreneur Kevin Xu '11, the CEO of two successful life-science corporations, MEBO International and Skingenix, Inc. Xu also co-founded the National Rongxiang Xu Foundation, which promotes the advancement of regenerative science to improve human health.

"We are thrilled to recognize these accomplished alumni," said Associate Senior Vice President for Alumni Relations Patrick E. Auerbach. "The opportunity to honor a respected Fortune 500 executive like Sandra Evers-Manly, an innovative marketing and communications expert like Michael Nyman, and a rising biotech entrepreneur like Kevin Xu, is a privilege for USC and the Trojan Family.”
